BURN, BABY, BURN

by the cover

Star Jones wins for best go-go dance. She jumped on a box at Resort and giggled for her betrothed, Al Reynolds, at their engagement party, while Richard Johnson and his drop-dead gorgeous girlfriend, Sessa von Richthofen; John Mosley; and the club's sharp owners, Shamin Abas and Frank Cilione, took in the action. Resort wisely dumped all its promoters last year and quite possibly has the coolest late-night crowd in its White Room, where you can actually find VIPs and an interesting mix of people who are actually important—a nice change from other spots that think anybody who is a big enough sucker to plunk down 600 bucks for two bottles of anything is a VIP, right?
